of five hundred dollars ($500) for each device. The application shall be on a form prescribed by the Commission, incorporated herein at the end of the chapter and labeled as Attachment #1. The same application form shall be used for either a permit or registration. No filing fee is required for registration unless, upon review of the application by the Commission, it is determined that a permit is required.

002.04 Permits and Registrations Not Transferrable: Permits or registrations are not transferable and a new permit or registration is required for a change in the person operating or connecting the automatic dialing-announcing device.

CHAPTER 11 - AUTOMATIC DIALING-ANNOUNCING DEVICES RULES AND REGULATIONS

004.02 Time Limit: No message transmitted by any automatic dialing-announcing device used for telephone solicitations or unsolicited advertisements shall exceed two (2) minutes in length.

004.03 Message Requirements: A person using an automatic dialing-announcing device for the purpose of making telephone solicitations or unsolicited advertisements shall deliver a message which:

004.03A At the beginning of the message clearly states the identity of the person making the call; and,

004.03B During or after the message, clearly states the telephone number, other than that of the device which made the call, and address of the person.

004.04 Do-Not-Call Lists: A person shall not make a telephone solicitation or unsolicited advertisement to a residential telephone line unless the caller has instituted procedures for maintaining a list of telephone subscribers who do not wish to receive telephone solicitations or unsolicited advertisements made by, or on behalf of, the caller. A caller shall at no time make telephone solicitations or unadvertised solicitations to subscribers on such list. Such procedures shall meet the following minimum standards:

004.04A A written policy, available upon demand, for maintaining a do-not-call list must be established.

004.04B Personnel engaged in any aspect of telephone solicitation or unsolicited advertisement must be informed of the existence of and trained in the use of the do-not-call list.

004.04C If a person making a telephone solicitation or unsolicited advertisement, or on whose behalf a solicitation or advertisement is made, receives a request from a residential or business telephone subscriber not to receive calls from that person, the person shall record the request and place the subscriber's name and telephone number on the do-not-call list and the time the request is made. If the requests are recorded or maintained by someone other than the person on whose behalf the telephone solicitation or unsolicited advertisement is made, the person on whose behalf the solicitation or advertisement is made shall be liable for any failure to honor the do-not-call request. In order to protect a telephone subscriber's privacy, a person making telephone solicitations or unsolicited advertisements shall obtain a telephone subscriber's prior express consent to share the telephone subscriber's request not to be called with, or to forward such request to, someone other than the person on whose behalf a telephone solicitation or unsolicited advertisement is made or an affiliated entity;

004.04D In the absence of a specific request by a telephone subscriber to the contrary, a residential or business telephone subscriber's do-not-call request shall apply to the particular person making the call or on whose behalf a call is made and shall not apply to affiliated entities unless the telephone subscriber reasonably would expect them to be included given the identification of the caller and the product being advertised; and,

004.05 Emergency Numbers; Restrictions: A person shall not initiate a telephone solicitation or unsolicited advertisement, other than a call made for emergency purposes, using an automatic dialing-announcing device to:

004.06 Disconnection: Use of an automatic dialing-announcing device shall not impair the telephone service of others.

004.06A Automatic: The serving telephone company may suspend or disconnect, without prior notice, the telephone service of the permit holder or registrant if the use of the automatic dialing-announcing device causes the prevention, obstruction or delay of telephone service to others.

004.06B Notification: The serving telephone company shall immediately notify the permit holder or registrant in writing of such disconnection and the reason therefor.

004.06C Reestablishment: Service may be reestablished with the consent of the serving telephone company or by order of the Commission after notice and hearing.

004.07 Sequential Dialing Prohibited: A person shall not connect or operate an automatic dialing-announcing device in such a manner as to allow it to dial telephone numbers sequentially which means in any manner other than a random manner. A detectable, predictable pattern which can be used to accurately project the device's number dialing shall satisfy a finding that sequential number dialing is taking place in violation of this section.

005.01 Administrative Fines: The Commission may administratively fine any person who violates Neb. Rev. Stat.
